

Contents

Lise-Lotte Holmgreen
Working with strategic research projects: Issues in corporate and organisational cultural studies	5
Section 1
Mapping culture in organisational contexts
Pablo R. Cristoffanini
The concept of culture in academic and public discourses: Meanings, changes and consequences	15
Lotte Dam and Óscar García Agustín
Cultures at work and beyond: Latin American and Spanish employees in a multinational Danish company	31
Óscar García Agustín
Cultural diversity and intercultural policies in the European Union	51
Section 2
Challenging practices of cultural inquiry and methodology
Kirsten Jæger and Annie Aarup Jensen
Talking (about) culture in healthcare and health education: Professional and intercultural communication aspects	71
Inger Lassen and Jeanne Strunck
Methodological challenges in intercultural inquiry	93

Simon Stefansen
Narratives in interviews: Illustrating a contextualist approach	111
Sine Nørholm Just and Robyn Remke
Practising difference: Beyond culture and management in professional encounters with diversity	131
Section 3
Knowledge sharing in corporate cultural studies
Inger Askehave and Lise-Lotte Holmgreen
Real-world outcomes - or how to make discourse-based research findings useful to practitioners through reflection and dialogue	151
Martine Cardel Gertsen and Mette Zølner
Knowledge sharing with a case company: Experiences and reflections from a qualitative study of recontextualization of corporate values in India	171
Anne-Marie Søderberg
Engaged Scholarship: Experiences with and reflections upon strategic research in collaboration with a Danish multinational company	193
List of contributors	215
Index	217