

CONTENTS

Constructing history, society and politics in discourse – Multimodal approaches	7
The Frozen oppositional mode Peter Berglez	13
How the Asahi Newspaper argued its editorial stance toward the U.S. attack on Afghanistan Miwa Nishimura	31
Risk Discourse – The Ideological Labor of the Press after September 11 Karmen Erjavec	43
Asking the “difficult” questions – a comparative case study of British and Irish current affairs coverage in the immediate aftermath of September 11 Sean Phelan	67
Between memory and taboo – On the construction of images of history in Austrian mass media discourse Alexander Pollak	85

Identity discourse and the construction of images – The role of Le Soir in the Belgian identity debate Inge Degn	103
A quest for dialogism – looking back at Italian political violence in the ‘70s Francesco Caviglia and Leonardo Cecchini	127
Selling Mozart in Salzburg – Multisystemiotic approach Eija Ventola	149
Political discourse in the feminine manifestation – Social identity Dina Maria Martins Ferreira	169